

CB Dogs - Covid 19 Update

At CB Dogs we are unable to run face to face classes during November due to the current lockdown restrictions. As hard as this is for us, we need to all do our bit to help slow the spread of this virus and this mean we believe shutting down in person classes is the only sensible option right now.

We will continue to run the online aspects of our puppy course for those already booked on and any of their in person sessions will be postponed until December. This means we will not have room to take on any new clients, online or otherwise for the rest of this year due to the domino effect of doing this. We sincerely hope to open up bookings once again for January, however we will not be doing this until closer to the time when we know better where we stand with in person group training.

For now we will not be running an online puppy course, simply as we want to focus on clients currently in classes during this time to help them through. If you would like to take part in some online puppy classes in the mean time, we can highly recommend checking out Sarah Davie Dog Training <https://www.sarahdavedogtraining.co.uk/> and her excellent Online Positive Pups Course (we're even accepting her graduates on to our future progression courses next year). For more info check out our earlier post with details.

If you are a CB Dogs client past or present, please join us on the Private Community page where we'll be keeping in touch over the lockdown <https://www.facebook.com/groups/2364950670428659/> (if your name is different on FB to the one we have for you please drop us a message so we know to approve your request - we only accept CB Dogs clients in this group).

We will update you as soon as anything changes, if we add new courses or are able to provide any other services you'll be the first to know.

In the mean time, take care, stay safe and keep training!
